So basically I am tearing down the whole phone from step to step. Please just follow the directions of my tear down the iPod Touch 5th generation

Step 1 — iPod Touch 5th Generation Teardown

- Have an iPod doesn't matter what color it is
- You would also need something sharp for the screen or a blow dryer to remove it

Step 2 — The opening of the phone

- Before removing the screen you need to apply heat to the iPod so that the pod can be easy to lift up.
- Be sure to use a spudger so you can lift the phone up

Step 3

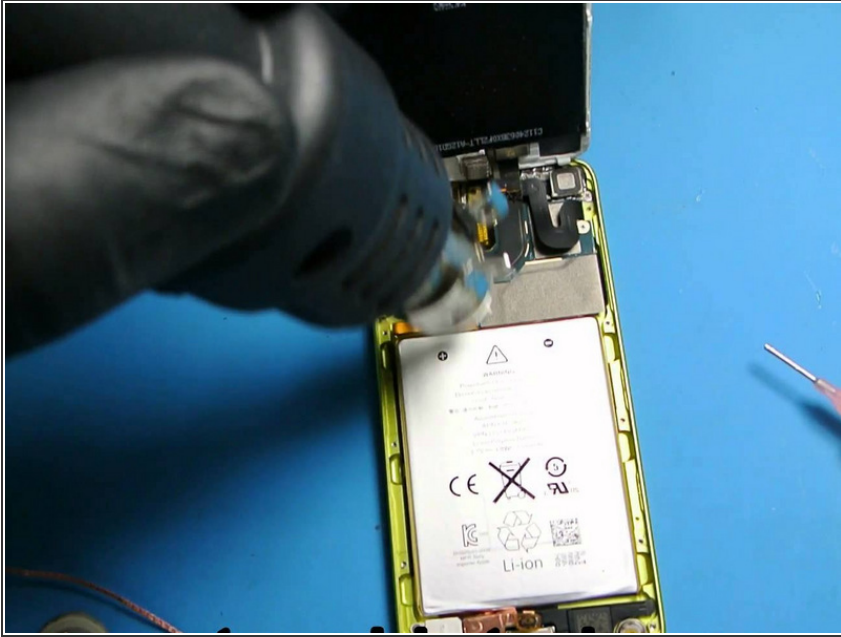

- After taking of the screen use 3.5 millimeter size screw driver to take off the digitizer.
- Do not add pressure when screwing off.

Step 4

- After a short while remove the digitizer slowly off so that you can only see the battery.
- Please do not press on the battery, cause the battery is lithium

Step 5 — Final step

- When replacing the battery use the spudger so to pull the battery up
- And after using the spudger use a blow dryer and turn it on low so that that battery can lift up
